

Trendy as timber, strong as steel

Steel-Line Garage Doors has launched its new product offering to the Australian market; a range of garage doors that affords home owners the look of timber with the strength of steel at almost half the cost of true timber products.

Decro® Doors are unique to Steel-Line and uses powder-coating and special polymers to create a natural looking, three-dimensional textured timber finish on high-quality steel.

Made from high quality products including BlueScope Colorbond® Steel, Decro Doors® come in four true Australian timber hues.

Eliminating the need to import or log Australian forests, Decro® Doors are both sustainable and eco-friendly and are approximately 40% cheaper than timber alternatives.

Through clever design technology, home owners can achieve the look and feel of timber with out the higher purchase and maintenance costs associated with real timber products.

When you deal with Steel-Line you are dealing direct with the manufacturer so you will find Decro® Doors have a shorter lead time than timber doors.

The process used to produce the Decro® Door range was originally developed in Italy in accordance with strict EU standards. Steel-Line purchased this technology and fine tuned it to suit Australian applications.

Decro Doors® can endure extreme weather conditions and are UV fade resistant, making them a cost-effective, low maintenance product which will look good for years to come.

Unlike timber, Decro® Doors steel cladding won't crack, warp or splinter and are impervious to insect and termite attack.

Decro® Doors are UV fade resistant and superficial scratches can be effortlessly buffed out to restore its original condition.

As one of Australia's leading garage door manufacturers, Steel-Line's range of Decro® Sectional overhead garage doors also incorporates their innovative solution "Finger Proofing" for safety.

Steel-Line was the first manufacturer to introduce curved finger proof joints to safeguard against injury and incorporates nylon hinges to create a quieter, smoother running door an aluminium bottom rail with a PVC weather seal to keep out the elements in all designs.

The Decro® Door range joins Steel-Line Garage Doors extensive product line of Heritage, Ranch and Slim-Line Sectional Overhead Doors, Domestic, Commercial and Industrial Roller Doors, Tilter Doors and Remote Control Operators.

The garage door is one of the largest and most prominent aspects of most modern homes; it needs to complement the existing architectural style and colour of the home, while offering security, durability and ease of use.

The Decro® Door range can achieve all of the above, making them the natural choice in garage doors.
